PRESS RELEASE

AUSTRALIAN CHEER SPORT ALLIANCE

SPORT AUSTRALIA'S DECISION ON NSO RECOGNITION

Following ACSA's decision to apply for NSO recognition in September last year, our application was unfortunately denied. Sport Australia has stated that the grounds for denial were that two competing organisations had applied for NSO recognition. Both Australian Cheer Sport Alliance (ACSA) and the Australian Cheer Union (ACU) submitted applications, with varying eligibility requirements met by each organisation.

ACSA's main priority is continuing the promotion and growth of Cheerleading within Australia, and helping our Cheerleading community in representing Australia internationally.

ACSA looks forward to trying to work together with ACU to create a resolution that brings the two organisations together.
